

12TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Deacon José Zamora, Pastoral Leader

This is one of those Gospel passages where it can be dangerous to interpret it too literally. We should not become complacent in the face of storms or other natural disasters, believing that God will prevent any grave consequences. Keep in mind that the Gospels are not contemporaneous journals of the first disciples, but books designed to inspire faith in and understanding of this God who became flesh, who suffered and died for our sins, and who was raised to new life. Mark told the dramatic story we hear today to inspire our faith, to show how the faith of even the first disciples wavered, and to look to Jesus as the one who had the power to still the stormy seas.

Recall that Jesus had just told the crowds parables to help them understand the kingdom of God. Last week's Gospel passage ended by saying that Jesus explained the parables to his disciples. They came to understand that the parables were vehicles for understanding the kingdom of God, not exact descriptions. They were still coming to grips with this talk of sowing seeds and growing mustard plants when the elements around them mirrored the chaos in their minds. Jesus, whose mind was at ease, slept soundly. Awakened, his words immediately calmed the sea. May Jesus' words calm our fears and confusion as well.

Notice the language Mark uses in this passage. Jesus "rebuked the wind," saying, "Quiet! Be still!" After the seas were calmed, the disciples asked each other, "Who then is this whom even wind and sea obey?" Listen to what Mark wrote earlier in Jesus' ministry, when a man with an unclean spirit called out to him: "Jesus rebuked him and said, 'Quiet! Come out of him!' ". After the demon fled, the crowds testified, "He commands even the unclean spirits and they obey him". Whether unclean spirits or violent storms, Jesus asserts his power, silences these sinister forces, and makes them obey. The disciples remain amazed, but slowly their faith is growing. What storms am I weathering right now? What storms can I see threatening those I know? How can my faith help me handle mine and assist others in theirs?

A word from Sister Pat Myers O.S.F.

Dear Family, friends and all those who have blessed my life over the years!

Thank you for the many cards, greetings and memorials! I love my home parish and as I now celebrate 60 years as a Franciscan Sister, I know it all began at St. Mary!

What a wonderful family you have been and are now!

Love and prayer,

Sister Pat Meyers, O.S.F.
